More Raids in Cuba Hinted for This Week

By BEN F. MEYER

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — New attacks on Communist Cuba by exile raiders Tuesday or Wednesday were hinted today by members of Miami's refugee colony.

Officially, they said nothing. But Manuel Ray, head of one action group, has promised to be fighting on Cuban soil before May 20, the nation's independence anniversary.

The exiles added it would not be surprising to hear that Eloy Gutierrez Menoyo, head of another group specializing in guerrilla tactics, might be in action on May 19, anniversary of the battlefield death in 1895 of Cuban patriot Jose Marti.

Gutierrez Menoyo, former major in Prime Minister Fidel Castro's rebel army, was one of the most successful guerrilla leaders against ex-dictator Fulgencio Batista. He turned against Castro when the Havana regime became Communist.

Many here believe both Ray and Gutierrez Menoyo may be Continued on Page Two

Teachers in Utah Start 2-Day Strike

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Utah teachers begin a two-day walkout today to press their demands for more money for education of the state's 270,000 pupils.

Gov. George D. Clyde's refusal last week to call a special legislative session to consider more school money triggered the Utah Education Association's call Saturday for a walkout today and Tuesday of its 10,000 members.

Most school boards ordered schools open in the face of the threatened action. But the openings were considered only a formality.

Two boards obtained court orders forbidding the walkouts in their areas.

The state attorney general office has ruled that schools may, after a token opening, close their doors if children show up and teachers remain at home.

John C. Evans Jr., UEA executive secretary, said that most teachers would honor the walkout.

Delighted With Brother's Win
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Winthrop Rockefeller, Republican candidate for governor, said Saturday he was delighted with his brother's upset victory in the Oregon GOP presidential preferential primary. But he said he didn't think it would affect Arkansas politics.

How will the victory affect Arkansas?

Board to Take Up Antenna Proposal Here

The Hope City Directors are going to have a lot of information on the operation of a community television antenna as well as the various reasons that elements of the television industry oppose this type of service.

Morris Maynor, of Atlanta, Texas, is scheduled to appear before the Board of Directors at their regular meeting at 8:00 o'clock, tonight, requesting a franchise for installing a community antenna. This is the third formal application that has been filed with the city for this service.

This has been up for discussion at the last four of five meetings of the City Board, and each time a group of local television dealers and servicemen have presented their views in opposition to the granting of a franchise.

The City Directors are trying to hear all the argument on both sides of the question. The service would provide a cable connection to anyone who would subscribe to the service, at a cost generally estimated at $5.00 per month, through which they could have a choice of several stations not now available.

Breakdown in Laos Causes Alarm in U.S.

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has told the Soviet Union, Britain and its Asian allies that a breakdown in Laos' shaky neutrality could bring on a new Southeast Asian crisis.

Johnson administration leaders are deeply disturbed about new offensive action by Communist forces in the Plaine des Jarres region of Laos. The Pathet Lao attacks, developing Sunday, bought positions held by neutralist troops under heavy fire.

Concern Over Changes in Laos War

By ANTOINE YARED

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — Heavy fighting in the Plaine des Jarres region and indications of a major Communist drive in Laos stirred concern today that a new Southeast Asian crisis was developing.

Military sources reported pro-Communist Pathet Lao troops were shelling neutralist troop commander Gen. Kong Le's command post at Muong Phan, 100 miles northeast of Vientiane.

These reports said Pathet Lao troops had advanced to within 500 yards of Muong Phan and that fighting was heavy.

Kong Le was reported to have left his headquarters. His whereabouts was not known.

The International Control Commission hastily removed its observer team from the plaine. An Indian member said they might not have made it if commission helicopters had arrived 15 minutes later.

Premier Souvanna Phouma called the fighting a large-scale attack by the Communists on neutralist positions.

Souvanna Phouma sent a cable to his half-brother, Prince Souphanouvong, the leader of the Pathet Lao, accusing him of "flagrant violations of the Geneva accords" of 1962 that neutralized Laos.

The Pathet Lao controls an estimated two-thirds of Laos' 90,000 square miles of mostly mountainous jungles. Their forces have pushed into the Plaine des Jarres several times in the past year and Kong Le and his neutralist army have been forced to retreat.

Last week the Pathet Lao captured the right-wing army base at Tha Thom, 100 miles northeast of Vientiane. It had been held jointly by two right-wing battalions and a neutralist company.

Western military sources in Vientiane said a dissident movement which broke out among neutralist ranks during the past week may have helped promote the Pathet Lao attacks on the neutralists in the Plaine des Jarres. The Pathet Lao is exploiting this dissension in propaganda broadcasts.

Dissatisfaction among neutralist officers stemmed from the recent merger of the right-wing and neutralist armies after the right-wing army coup in Vientiane.

The neutrality policy set up at Geneva has never worked. Laos has a coalition government headed by Souvanna, but he has held no authority over the areas held by the Pathet Lao.

Sources in San Juan reported that Ray left Puerto Rico over the weekend.

Ray, 39, an engineer, went into hiding two weeks ago, after saying in a telephone interview that he would return to Cuba either alone or with two or three others to lead the underground on the island. He left behind a well-paying Puerto Rican government job, a wife and five children.

Broadcasts heard in Miami from a station identifying itself as Radio Free Cuba, "transmitting from within Cuban territory," told the Cuban people the hour of the Communist "traitors is very near." It appealed to Castro's soldiers, militiamen and workers to rebel.

Exile leaders claim Castro's regime is ripe for ouster, but U.S. officials believe the Communist dictatorship has such a tight, police-state grip on Cuba as to make a popular uprising unlikely.

Refugee leaders said there will be a count Wednesday of ballots in a worldwide referendum among Cuban exiles on the question of setting up a five-man central junta as an anti-Castro representative body. Presumably it could serve as a provisional government if Castro's regime were overthrown.

plans how to handle children that came to school. Evans said that "amateurs in charge of overcrowded classrooms will bring chaos" and threaten the safety of children.

The UEA hoped the 900,000-member National Education Association would grant its call for sanctions and ask that no out-of-state teacher take a job in Utah.

State teachers expected to learn of the NEA's plans after mass meetings Tuesday in Salt Lake City. The teachers will decide then what further action to take, if any.

Proposals include an indefinite extension of the present walkout and a refusal to sign contracts for next year until demands are met.

The teachers so far have refused to sign contracts, although the normal signing time has gone by. They almost refused to teach last year when their request for an added $25 million for schools was cut in half.

The teachers returned to classrooms in the fall when Clyde appointed a study committee as a compromise.

ion, Britain and other countries that have a direct interest in the situation.

Rusk's purpose was to get support in Moscow, London and elsewhere for efforts to put an end to the Communist drive, and save the Geneva agreement which neutralized Laos and stopped the use of Laotian territory for supplying Red guerrillas in South Vietnam.

Some officials say privately that if the efforts to preserve the neutrality of Laos are unsuccessful then the conflict in that country will almost inevitably become a part of the anti-guerrilla war which the United States is supporting in South Vietnam.

Rusk met with Soviet Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin Sunday night. He also conferred with the British Embassy minister, Denis A. Greenhill, and later talked with British Ambassador Lord Harlech in a meeting of ambassadors from countries from the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization, including Pakistan, France, Australia, New Zealand, Thailand and the Philippines.

In still another conference Rusk met with representatives of India, Poland and Canada. The three countries make up an international control commission which is supposed to supervise Laos' neutrality under an East-West agreement worked out at Geneva in 1962.

The Soviet Union and Britain served as cochairmen of the Geneva negotiations and since have exercised the special responsibility in diplomatic efforts aimed at making the neutrality policy work.

Injury Award to Girl Is Affirmed

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Supreme Court today affirmed $10,300 damage award for injuries suffered by a three-year-old girl struck by the blade of helicopter bringing Santa Claus to a merchants promotion in downtown Little Rock.

The decisions affirmed Nevada Circuit Court in a suit filed by Arvin E. Jones, father of the child, Mary Gen Jones, against Southern Helicopter Service, Inc. and William F. Holland, pilot of the craft involved.

The child was struck by a helicopter rotor blade Nov. 17, 1962. A trial court jury found that Holland was negligent because he failed to cut off the engine of the helicopter after he landed with Santa Claus.

A little later he did turn off the engine and at that time the rotor moved and one of the blades struck Mary Gen.

The court rejected all of Southern Helicopter's arguments for reversal, including a contention that the judgment was excessive.

Justice Ed McFadden noted in the opinion that the child's nose was permanently injured and she suffered a permanent discoloration under her eyes.

"If all this had happened to a little boy, it might have been different," McFadden wrote. "But where is a girl who does not want to be a beauty?"

Where is the little girl that does not aspire to be a Miss Arkansas or a Miss America? This little girl, with these scars and this discoloration, will go through life without the expectation that other little girls have in this regard."

In a Washington County case, the court reversed the Washington Chancery Court, which had enjoined the state Highway Commission from taking some property which the commission contended had been dedicated for public highway use in 1947.

Property owners in the Noel addition to the city of Springfield contended that the property was never formally dedicated to highway use.

The Supreme Court said it was dedicated by implication when the plat of the property filed by C. F. Noel when the divided the land into lot showed a 50-foot highway dedication.

Communist Change Likely in Finland

By REINHOLD ENSZ

MOSCOW (AP)—A new shift in the Soviet Union's top command likely will result from the death of Otto Kuusinen, Finnish member of the Communist party's 12-man presidium and one of the last old Bolsheviks.

Kuusinen, 82, was appointed to the presidium at Premier Khrushchev's bidding after the ouster of Georgi Malenkov, V. M. Molotov and Lazar Kaganovich in 1957. His death from cancer of the liver was announced Sunday.

He was one of the last direct links of the party leadership with Lenin.

Khrushchev, visiting in Egypt, and First Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan, visiting in Tokyo, would speed home to take part in the appointment of Kuusinen's successor.

Frequently mentioned is Viktor Grishin, a candidate member of the presidium and head of the trade unions.

Kuusinen's death also could provide Khrushchev with the opportunity of replacing two ailing members of the presidium—Frol Kozlov, 54, incapacitated by a stroke, and Nikolai Shvernik, 76.

Khrushchev, 70, returned to Cairo Sunday, tired and strained after a hectic four-day tour in the 100-degree heat of upper Egypt, 430 miles south of Cairo.

The tumultuous reception he received at every stop in Egypt undoubtedly added to the premier's fatigue. He canceled a visit to a steel mill today and an officers' dinner tonight but planned to go ahead with scheduled talks with President Gamal Abdel Nasser.

Kuusinen's body lay in state in the Hall of Columns of the House of Trade Unions, the same place where Stalin lay. He was to be buried Tuesday in Red Square.

Kuusinen was born in Finland when it was part of the Russian empire. He headed a puppet Soviet government during the Russian invasion of Finland in 1939-40 and was denounced by the Finns as a traitor.

Kuusinen had first fled to Moscow in 1930 when the Communist party was outlawed in Finland. He became a leading Soviet Communist the next year. His daughter, Herta Kuusinen-Leino, is one of Finland's leading Communists.

The victory was credited to Dave Tyrivier, who relieved Portland starter Floyd Weaver in the eighth. It was Tyrivier's third against no defeats.

Howie Goss returned Arkansas to contention in the eighth, tying the score with his second home run of the game. Portland then regained the lead on a homer by Willie Tashy.

Arkansas again tied the score in the ninth on singles by Leo Phillips and Bob Malkmus and a sacrifice fly by Pat Corrales.

"DEAR ABBY"

OUTRAGED

By Abigail Van Buren

Dear Abby: When I read all those letters from readers stating that you were wrong to say that the bus driver should have stopped and tried to help the dog he hit, I couldn't believe my eyes. Then we find out there is a LAW in Indiana which prohibits a school bus driver from stopping on the highway even if he hits a child. What if he hits a child? He would have to stop then, wouldn't he? Or would he just go right on, and report the incident only after having delivered his bus load of children to their destinations? No wonder there is so much inhumanity today. I don't care what the LAW says Abby, don't you back down one inch. You were right, and the whole State of Indiana is wrong to let a law like that stay on its books.

NOT FROM INDIANA

Dear Abby: I have never before written to a newspaper columnist, but I cannot sleep unless I write this letter. How could anyone answer his own conscience if he hits a poor defenseless dog and doesn't stop to see if the dog is dead or alive, or to give him some aid? An injured dog on the highway would surely be struck again and again by oncoming vehicles if not removed. Dogs feel pain, just as humans do. If this is the law, perhaps we can look forward to future laws which will not only disregard the feelings of animals, but people. Phooey on progress.

DISGUSTED WITH PEOPLE

Dear Abby: I checked and you were right. It IS against the law in Indiana for a school bus driver to stop on the highway if he hits an animal. The laws of various states are often confusing. For example, I was driving through a section posted "RANGE AREA—WATCH

Secretariat to Vatican Is Created

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Paul VI is creating a Vatican secretariat to work for closer relations between the Roman Catholic Church and non-Christian religions. It may bring religious leaders of East and West together on a regular basis for the first time in history.

The Roman Catholic ruler announced Sunday that he would create the Vatican agency soon to promote contacts with Buddhists, Hindus, Moslems, Jews and members of other faiths outside Christianity.

Paolo Cardinal Marella, 69, will head the new congregation. He is archpriest of St. Peter's and a former apostolic delegate to Australia and Japan.

Roman Catholic churchmen in different parts of the world have numerous contacts with clergymen from other religions. Representatives of non-Christian faiths are received at the Vatican during visits. But this will be the first concerted official Vatican effort to promote closer ties with such religions.

The Vatican already has a secretariat to promote unity with non-Catholic Christians.

Pope Paul did not specify how the secretariat would work or what problems it would take up with non-Christian religions. But it was believed that regular visits, and perhaps even assignments, of non-Christian spokesmen to the headquarters of the Catholic Church were a strong possibility.

Vatican sources stressed that the secretariat, like the secretariat for Christian unity, would not strive for conversions.

"It is a question of trying to achieve better understanding all around," said a spokesman.

No Merger, Top Baptists Declare

By DON MCKEE
Associated Press Writer
ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—Two top Baptist leaders have agreed that the Northern and Southern Baptist conventions might be moving toward closer cooperation but not merger.

The two groups meet here separately this week before joining with five other Baptist denominations Friday to celebrate the 150th anniversary of Baptist work in America.

"It is somewhat of a movement toward each other," said former Minnesota Gov. Harold E. Stassen, now of Philadelphia president of the American (Northern) Baptist Convention. Both he and Dr. K. Owen White, of Houston, Tex., president of the Southern Baptist Convention, agreed Sunday that the simultaneous meetings of their groups were significant. But neither foresaw any real effort toward organic unity of the conventions, which split in 1845 over slavery.

"I think it may indicate a desire for more cooperation in some areas," Dr. White said.

Both conventions probably will debate racial issues. The American convention for many years has taken a strong stand against segregation and discrimination.

Discussion of racial issues by the American convention is scheduled for Tuesday. Two integration leaders, Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. and the Rev. Ralph Abernathy, both of Atlanta, are on the program.

More than likely there will be some effort to in the Southern convention, which generally is segregated, toward adoption of a policy against discrimination in local churches. The convention cannot bind the local churches to any policy.

Things Shape Up for the Speedway

By DALE BURGESS
Associated Press Sports Writer
INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Jimmy Clark of Scotland, world's fastest commuter, and American Bobby Marshman will lead four former winners across the starting line for the Indianapolis 500-mile auto race on Memorial Day.

In their slipper-shaped Lotus-Fords they topped a record-smashing field in qualifications Saturday. Clark took the race day pole position at 158.8 miles per hour in a factory team car and Marshman won the second starting spot at 157.9 m.p.h. in a similar race entered independently.

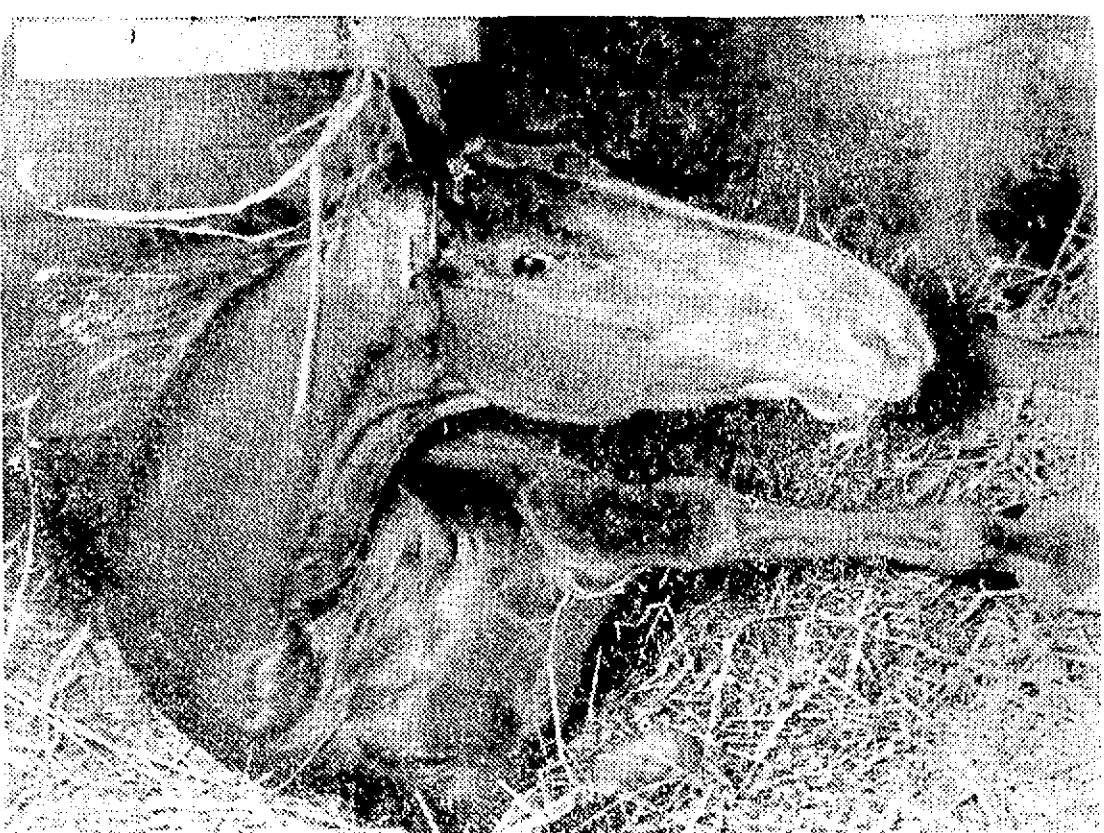

The Scot farmer hopped a plane to Valley Park, England, and won the Guard's Trophy race there Sunday, setting a lap record of the winding course. Clark will compete in the Dutch Grand Prix next weekend before flying back to Indianapolis.

Clark, who dominated the Grand Prix international circuit last year as no driver ever did before, will be the first European to lead the 500 start since Rene Thomas of France won the pole in 1919.

Jack Brabham of Australia and England, another former Grand Prix champion, was left still waiting to make his qualifying run when the second time trial session ended Sunday. He plans to try again Saturday after a run and trip to Holland to practice for the Grand Prix.

Sixteen cars qualified on the 2½-mile oval track Saturday and five made the line-up Sunday. The field so far has averaged 153.1 miles an hour. Parnelli Jones, last year's winner of the $50,000 prize, captured the pole position then at a record 151.1 average.

The 33 fastest cars in the trials will start the race. The qualifications continue next Saturday and Sunday.

Germany Takes Davis Cup Lead

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
West Germany took a 2-1 lead into today's last two singles matches against Russia in a European Zone Davis Cup elimination series.

The Soviet tennis team needs a sweep to gain the last vacant berth in the European Zone quarter-finals.

France, Italy and Sweden completed 5-0 sweeps Sunday over Holland, Rhodesia and Czechoslovakia, respectively. Defending champion Britain clinched a quarter-final spot, as did South Africa and Denmark, earlier in the week. Yugoslavia moved up Saturday via a 5-0 rout of Argentina.

Britain goes against Yugoslavia, South Africa meets France and Italy faces Sweden in the quarter-finals next month. The Russia-West Germany survivor will play Denmark.

Mickey Wright Wins Another

MUSKOGEE, Okla. (AP)—As Marlene Hagge said, "It's getting a bit monotonous saying congratulations to Mickey."

Mickey Wright, 29, had just won her 56th golf tournament as a professional and her fourth of this year, the Muskogee Women's Open, ending Sunday with a 213 total, three over par. She received a $1,250 check for first place for the second straight year here, then headed for the Dallas Open, on what she called "a fun course."

The course in Dallas, she said, is much easier than the one here, where she posted the only sub-par round in three days—a 68. "I was the women's course record—and coasting to a nine-stroke victory."

Marlene Hagge nosed out Betty Rawls for second, closing fast with a par 70, the second best round during the 54-hole tournament. Miss Rawls saw her chance to tie for second during a missed putt on the final hole.

Guards Used in Maryland Race Trouble

CAMBRIDGE, Md. (AP) — National Guardsmen had to use tear gas again Thursday night to break up a Negro demonstration in this racially divided town.

Leaders in the white community called for the immediate removal of Brig. Gen. George M. Gelston, National Guard commander, charging that he was not enforcing the modified militia law which includes a ban on demonstrating.

About 150 integrationists, most of them Negroes, left St. Luke's Methodist Church Thursday night marching and singing for the fourth demonstration in as many nights.

Gelston intercepted the marchers about one-half block from Washington Street, which leads into the white section of this town of 12,600.

Most of the demonstrators dispersed, but about 20 youths refused, and began heckling the guardsmen. A few stones were thrown, and Gelston ordered tear gas fired. It took only two canisters, a spray from a new type gas gun and the youths scattered.

Guard troops have been here since last June 12, following an outbreak of racial violence. They had been reduced to a token force of 10, but an additional 350 were brought in Monday for anticipated demonstrations in the wake of a Monday night speech here by Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace. The troops still are here.

Torpedo Taken From Exiles

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A homemade radio-controlled torpedo tested on an open lake near Miami International Airport has been confiscated from two Cuban exiles.

Cuban underground sources speculate the 11-foot-long torpedo was intended for use against the Cuban freighter Las Villas, reportedly loaded in France on May 4 with 300 trucks for Prime Minister Fidel Castro's government. Exiles said the freighter was due to pass near Florida en route to Havana.

Fred Patton, supervising U.S. Customs agent in Miami, said in a statement Thursday: "An unarmed torpedo was seized while it was being transported by two Cuban exiles. We don't know the intended specific use. The matter is still under investigation."

Customs agents refused to say if the Cubans were under arrest.

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the news from Washington:

The damages were caused by federal troops sent in after the 1962 enrollment of Negro student James Meredith.

A spokesman for the comptroller general's office said Sunday if the university wishes to press its claim it will have to go to the U.S. court of claims or to a federal district court.

In an interview Sunday on ABC's radio and television show "Issues and Answers," Shriver made light of Republican criticism that the pending bill would make him a czar with too much power.

While Mother reads nursery rhymes, electricity is running the automatic washer, cooking dinner, lighting the windows to welcome Daddy home.

All over the house, electric servants are ready to help at the flip of a switch or the turn of a dial, to give the lady of the house time for Dad and the kids.

What's more, electricity works for so low a price that it's today's biggest bargain. As a matter of fact, on the average, people today pay less than half as much for a unit of electricity for home use as they did 30 years ago!

This is just one indication of the effective job that this and other investor-owned companies throughout the country are doing to provide you with the best electric service in the world.

Giants Sweep Pair; Braves, Cards Split

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Ron Herbel is nearsighted and Jack Fisher is beginning to see the light.

Herbel is one of the young pitchers the San Francisco Giants were counting on when they let Fisher go to the New York Mets in the National League's "Help the Poor" draft last fall.

Manager Alvin Dark gave the rookie right-hander his first major league start in the second game of Sunday's doubleheader against Fisher and the Mets but had Herbel know he'd only get two hits from his teammates, he might have declined the opportunity.

Fisher handcuffed the Giants for seven innings allowing only singles to Matty Alou in the first and Orlando Cepeda in the second. Pitching for the Giants, it might have been good enough to win but hurling for the Mets was not a chance.

Cepeda, who slugged a three-run homer to back up Bob Hendley's three-hitter for a 6-0 first game victory, did the damage. He stole second following his single, moved to third on a fly ball and scored when Fisher uncorked a wild pitch. It was the only mistake the ex-Giant hurler made, but it was enough to beat him.

Herbel, who began wearing glasses in spring training, surrendered seven hits to Casey Stengel's ruthless wonders and pitched out of numerous jams.

The double triumph marked the first Giant sweep since July 4, 1962 when—who else—the Mets were victimized 11-4 and 10-3.

While the Giants were sweeping, three other National League doubleheaders ended in splits. Los Angeles edged Pittsburgh 3-2 and the Pirates won the second game 8-3; St. Louis stretched Milwaukee's losing

Rights Debate in the Senate in 11th Week

WASHINGTON (AP) — Protestant clergymen from every state march in a "silent, prayerful procession" to Capitol Hill today, beginning of the Senate's 11th week of debate on the civil rights bill.

The demonstration, sponsored by the National Council of Churches' Commission on Religion and Race, was designed to press for passage of the measure, stalled by Southern oratory through 57 sessions.

An hour before the Senate is gavelled into its 58th meeting on the House-passed bill, the clergymen assemble in the Lutheran Church of the Reformation, two blocks east of the Capitol, for a worship service led by the Very Rev. Francis B. Sayre, dean of the National Cathedral.

En route to the Capitol, the churchmen pause to pray for justice at the Supreme Court building, marking the 10th anniversary of the 1954 Supreme Court school desegregation decision.

They planned to pray on the Senate steps and then seek out every senator to appeal for enactment of the civil rights bill.

Within the Capitol, meanwhile, here is almost continual jockeying for debate-limiting closure.

Much of what happens depends on the outcome of Democratic and Republican party break to five with a 7-3 victory in the opener before the Braves came back to take the nightcap 1-2. Chicago's four run ninth inning edged Cincinnati 5-4 in the opener before the Reds won the nightcap 7-1. In a night game at Houston, Philadelphia blanked the Colts 2-0.

In the American League, New York swept Kansas City 11-9 and 8-0; Detroit swept Cleveland 3-1 and 4-1; Chicago edged Washington 3-2; Los Angeles battered Baltimore 9-4 and Boston and Minnesota split with the Red Sox winning the opener 6-2 and the Twins taking the nightcap 6-5.

The Phillies pulled the first triple play of the season against the Colts in the fifth inning. With Walt Williams on first and Rusty Staub on second, Jerry Grote grounded to first baseman John Herrstein.

Herrstein fired to Bobby Wine, forcing Williams, and Wine's return threw retired Grote. When Staub tried to score, Herrstein's throw to Gus Triandos caught him at the plate.

Walt Alston gave the Dodgers' Convalescent Corps a workout, starting Sandy Koufax in the opener and Johnny Podres in the second game.

Koufax nursed a shutout into the eighth before three Pirate hits delivered both runs and brought on Ron Ferranowski, who saved it.

Podres, making his first start since April 25, was shelved for four runs and failed to last through the first inning.

Ed Bailey and Denis Menke socked back-to-back homers in the fifth inning and Felipe Alou added a solo shot in the sixth as the Braves snapped their losing streak behind Tony Cloninger's six-hitter.

Yankees Win Two, Indians Drop a Pair

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Mickey Lolich and Hank Aguirre continue their perfect hitting, but unfortunately for the Cleveland Indians they pitch slightly better.

Lolich and Aguirre, a pair of Detroit left-handers, hit like Popeye and Olive Oyl would sing Romeo and Juliet. They showed it again Sunday by maintaining their 1,000 batting averages.

Each, however, pitched a seven-inning game. Lolich pitched the Indians 3-1 and 4-1, ending their five-game winning streak and knocking them out of first place in the American League.

Lolich failed to hit in two trips to the plate in the 4-1 triumph after Aguirre had gone hitless in four appearances in the first game. The 23-year-old Lolich now is 0-9 for the season. Aguirre 0-17.

The Tigers staunchly supported the 32-year-old Aguirre as the worst hitting pitcher in the league before Lolich appeared last season. As it turned out, Aguirre—with his .132 average—was more than twice the hitter Lolich was. The young upstart batted .056.

While their batting races even this season, Lolich is ahead of Aguirre in the pitching department. Sunday's victory was the fourth for Lolich against one defeat. He reduced his earned run average to 2.85.

Aguirre, who needed ninth-inning relief help from Larry Sherry, earned his first decision although the start was his sixth. His ERA dropped to 2.72.

The Indians were replaced in the top spot by Chicago, which nipped Washington 3-2. New York swept Kansas City 11-9 and 8-0. Los Angeles whipped Baltimore 9-4 and Minnesota edged Boston 6-5 after losing 6-2.

In the National League, San Francisco blanked New York 6-0 and 1-0, Philadelphia shut out Houston 2-0, St. Louis downed Milwaukee 7-3 before losing 4-2. Pittsburgh knocked off Los Angeles 8-3 after dropping a 3-2 decision and Chicago nipped Cincinnati 5-4, then lost 7-1.

Lolich struck out six, and didn't walk a man in the Tiger's second-game triumph. The Tigers scored two runs in the fourth when Gates Brown tripled home Dick McAuliffe and scored on a single by Norm Cash. McAuliffe homered in the sixth.

Al Kaline contributed a homer to the Tigers' attack in the first game. Don Demeter singled in a run in the first, and George Thomas doubled home Bill Freehan, who had tripled, in the sixth.

Pee Wee's single which scored Al Weis in the eighth gave Juan Pizarro his fifth victory without a loss for the White Sox.

Whitely Ford pitched a four-hitter and Joe Pepitone clouted two home runs as the Yankees romped over the Athletics in the second game. Ford walked one and struck out five, bringing his record to 4-1.

Mickey Mantle and Tom Tresh homered in the first game. Mantle's came with one on, Tresh's with two aboard.

Joe Adcock drove in three runs and Dick Simpson and Felix Torres homered for the Angels. Baltimore tied the game 4-4 on Boog Powell's two-run homer in the fourth, but relief hurler Willie Smith launched a three-run rally in the sixth for the Angels with a double.

The Twins and the Red Sox traded come-from-behind victories.

Australians Beat Mexicans
BERLIN—Roy Emerson and Ken Fletcher of Australia beat Mexico's Rafael Osuna and Antonio Palafox 8-10, 6-4, 6-3, 6-4 for the men's doubles title and Australians Margaret Smith and Lesley Turner defeated Nancy Richey of Dallas and Karen Hantze Susmar of San Antonio, Tex., 7-5, 6-2 in the women's doubles final of an international tournament.

Harvard Crew Undefeated
WORCESTER, Mass. — Harvard's undefeated heavyweight crew won the Eastern Sprint Rowing Championships by one length over Cornell in 6:32 for the Olympic 2,000-meter course on Lake Quinsigamond.

With five hits including two home runs as the Yankees swept the Kansas City Athletics 11-9 and 8-0.

PITCHING — Bob Hendley, San Francisco Giants, shut out the New York Mets on three hits, striking out five and walking one as the Giants beat the Mets 6-0 in the first game of a doubleheader.

BALTIMORE (AP) — "He won't jump over the Empire State Building," Jockey Bill Hartack answered when asked if there is anything Northern Dancer can't do.

"He will do anything in a race that you want him to," Hartack said.

On that, even combative Hartack couldn't get an argument. Northern Dancer convinced his skeptics—and there were more of them than believers—in winning the Preakness Saturday by 2 1/4 lengths. Even Bill Shoemaker was convinced.

"The best horse won, that's all," admitted the Shoe, who had swapped horses a month before the Kentucky Derby. He gave up Northern Dancer for Hill Rise, on which he finished second in the Derby and third in the Preakness Saturday at Pimlico.

"You do what you think is right," said Shoemaker of his switch. "This time I was wrong. It won't be the last time."

Hank Moreno on The Scoundrel, who finished second, said his horse was still running strong at the finish and might have caught Northern Dancer if the Preakness had been longer than 13-16 miles.

To those still scratching for a reason to pick against Northern Dancer, Hartack warned: "I don't have any doubts about this horse going a mile and a half."

This was in reference to the distance of the Belmont June 6 at Aqueduct. The odds are 10 to 1 against Northern Dancer capturing that last leg of the triple crown for 3-year-olds. But that's right down his alley.

The bettors in both the Derby and Preakness sent the Canadian horse off second choice to Hill Rise. His backers profited at $8.80 in the Derby and $6.20 in the Preakness.

The Canadian pride of E. P. Taylor goes into the Belmont with 13 victories, the past seven in a row, in 16 starts. He already is more than halfway to being a millionaire.

In Saturday's other major races, Castle Forbes, $6.90, beat Seecree by 1 1/4 lengths in the $60,150 Acorn Stakes at Aqueduct, with favored Face The Facts third, and Tosmah, $5.40, won the Colonial Handicap at Garden State Park by 1 1/2 lengths over Look Ma.

Real Good Deal, $5.20, scored easily in the Debonair Stakes at Hollywood Park and Chelios, $5.20, won the Pacific Handicap at Golden Gate Fields.

Boxers to Start Trials for Olympics

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) Eighty of the country's top amateur boxers, representing the cream of an estimated starting field of 30,000 hopefuls, open the three-day Olympic Trials today to determine the 10 who will represent Uncle Sam in the Tokyo Olympics.

The winners of the 10 weight divisions will earn the trip to the Tokyo Games, Oct. 10-24. In the field are the Army, Navy, Marine and Air Force champions, the National AAU and Golden Gloves titleholders, and the winners of the Eastern and Western open regionals.

All will fight once either in the afternoon or evening today. The 40 survivors will battle in 20 semifinals Tuesday night and the finalists will have it out in 10 bouts Wednesday night.

The tournament will be held in the outdoor, uncovered 18,000-seat Singer Bowl at the World's Fair. Admission is free to visitors who have paid their way into the grounds. In case of rain, the boxing will be held in the small, indoor Sunnyside Garden in suburban Queens.

That's when both groups get a look at 70 amendments worked out by the Senate leadership and Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy.

The package, aimed at making the bill more acceptable to undecided senators, is being offered by Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen.

As debate by Southerners opposing the bill dragged on last week, there was more talk of trying for closure — getting two-thirds of the senators present and voting to approve a curbing further speeches.

Walker to Talk at Peace Rally

LITTLE ROCK (AP) - Former Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker will be the principal speaker tonight at a "Rally for Civil Peace" sponsored by the Capitol Citizens Council.

The rally is the council's observance of the 10th anniversary of the U.S. Supreme Court's school desegregation decision.

Walker told a public news conference in Little Rock's MacArthur Park Sunday that the civil rights bill now in Congress should be called a "police rights bill."

"No normal police force will be able to enforce such a bill," he said.

About 150 persons attended the news conference which had been publicized in advance.

They interrupted Walker with applause several times.

Later Walker was driven to Little Rock Central High School. Walker was commander of the Arkansas Military District in 1957 when federal troops enforced desegregation of the school.

Sen. Quesada laughed cheerfully. "Indeed it does, although I suspect you were being sarcastic." He put his elbows on the table. "Will it be anxiously assumed that there is a rebel force trained and ready to use these guns?"

"Is there such a force?" Sen. Quesada shrugged casually.

Sen. Quesada smiled apologetically. "A paid killer is one thing. But Domingo's confidence in you seemed based on very flimsy evidence. But he was insistent. He pleaded with me I watched you carefully that night. You did not know the gun wasn't loaded. And when I saw your finger tighten on the trigger, and studied the look in your eye, I knew that Domingo's confidence had not been misplaced."

"And why do you want to smuggle guns into Spain? To overthrow the government?"

"I will let them be discovered by the police."

"That makes sense."

Zarren said, "I'm taking you to Senor Quesada."

Malcolm was still smiling. "A lack of imagination is the mother of melodrama," he said. "Is Senor Quesada the one I'm going to kill?"

"No."

After a dozen more swaying revolutions about the narrowing mountain, they came to a clearing where dim yellow postern lights marked the entrance to a villa. In their faint glow, Malcolm saw stately iron gates and white stone walls stretching away into the darkness.

Zarren turned the car around with a series of inept lunges, and snapped off the motor.

"Get out and go to the gate," Zarren said. "Someone will take you to Senor Quesada."

"You're not coming?"

"No."

Malcolm got out of the car and walked over uneven ground to the tall iron gates. In the light of the postern lamps he saw a man behind the bars, a stocky figure who wore a broad leather belt drawn diagonally across a gray tunic jacket.

The doors were opened by a smiling maid in a black uniform. Malcolm accompanied her down a broad corridor lined with massive chests and cabinets, and lighted at regular intervals by lamps in heavy brass mountings. At the end of the corridor the maid knocked softly on a closed door. Then she opened it, smiled at Malcolm, and stepped aside.

A fireplace was at the opposite end of the room and Malcolm didn't recognize the man from that distance.

"Senor Quesada?"

"Yes. I'm pleased you could come. Would you join me for breakfast?"

Malcolm recognized him as he approached the table, which was covered with a stiff, white cloth, and laid with two place settings.

"I'll just have coffee," Malcolm said, and sat down facing the tall, silver-haired man he had met in Domingo's cave.

"I understand. But I prefer to wait. You possess an unusual talent, which you are exercising for Domingo for a very reasonable price. A glass of brandy, wasn't it?"

"Cheap brandy," Malcolm said.

Senor Quesada smiled apologetically. "A paid killer is one thing. But Domingo's confidence in you seemed based on very flimsy evidence. But he was insistent. He pleaded with me I watched you carefully that night. You did not know the gun wasn't loaded. AP Television-Radio Writer NEW YORK (AP)—"Don't Go Upstairs," Sunday night's NBC "Show of the Week" drama, was a scary nightmarish story that with subtle exaggeration delicately telegraphed its punch ending.

It was the experience of an overly imaginative little girl whose parents carried on constant verbal warfare. The story was well written by Roger O. Hirson, who sustained the dreamy quality but added some whimsical touches including a black and white cat named Scott whose mate was named Zeld.

Most impressive was the acting talent of young Connie Scott. Miss Scott was so very good that one was not even annoyed at the "surprise ending"—which one began to suspect and anticipate early in the program.

It was an interesting and off-beat television experiment.

Mort Werner, NBC programming vice president who also is president of the embattled National Academy of Television Arts and Sciences, last Friday asked "Emmy" awards nominees, and performers invited to present awards on NBC's May 25 awards special show, to let the network know whether they the network know whether they.

By late Sunday, NBC said, appearances were confirmed by E. G. Marshall and Joey Bishop. East and West Coast hosts of the show, and by Danny Kaye and Dick Van Dyke, both CBS stars, who are scheduled to open the show with a sketch.

Other non-NBC stars who have confirmed are ABC's Inger Stevens and Patty Duke. NBC also said that CBS' George C. Scott had said he would appear, although the company that packages his show, "East Side, West Side" has announced its withdrawal of support from the awards.

NBC added that no refusals had been received from invited entertainment stars.

The strike of a New York union of scenic artists was settled over the weekend, ending a threat to future East Coast production of television dramatic shows. Two of the five shows produced in New York are expected, however, to make some episodes in Hollywood — "The Defenders" and "The Nurses," both made by the same company.

Arkansas Would Pay Small Share

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus says he has told Tennessee Gov. Frank Clement that Tennessee should pay $3 million to Arkansas' $2 million of the cost of the new Mississippi River bridge at Memphis.

Faubus said he, informed Clement of the Arkansas position in a telephone conversation this week.

"We hope they will understand us," Faubus said. "We are 100 per cent for the new bridge, but it will be more valuable to them."

The six-lane bridge will be an important link in the interstate system. Cost is estimated at $50 million, but the federal government will pay about $45 million as its 90 per cent share.

"They're pushing this bridge in Memphis to get our people out of Arkansas," said Wayne Hampton, chairman of the Arkansas Highway Commission. "So somebody over on that side of the river ought to pay more for it than Arkansas. If Tennessee can't, then Memphis should."

Arkansas officials said they are ready to start talks to reach a money agreement with Tennessee any time after June 8.

Asked about the position that Tennessee should pay more, Faubus said, "We all feel this way. I personally don't think there's any question but that the bridge will be much more beneficial to Tennessee and Memphis than to Arkansas."

"There will be no backing down as far as I'm concerned," Hampton said.

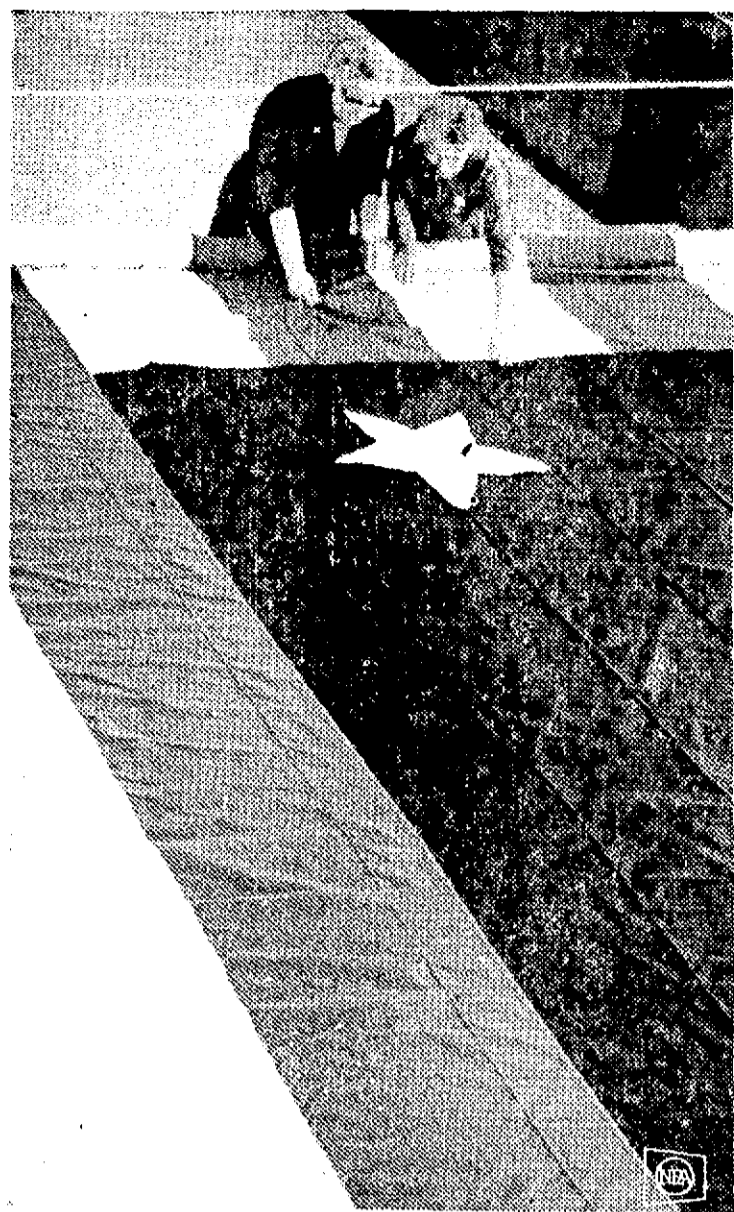

Tennessee highway officials in Nashville and Memphis Public Works Commissioner Pete Sisson declined to comment on Arkansas' proposal.

Group Agrees to Circulate Petitions

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—The Ouachata Area Development Council unanimously endorsed Tuesday night circulation of petitions to legalize gambling in Garland County.

The council is composed of representatives of the chambers of commerce in Clark, Garland, Hot Springs and Saline counties.

The Hot Springs chamber of Commerce sponsors the petitions which would put local operation of gambling on a state-wide vote in a November general election.

NEW OLD FLAG—Visitors to the State Office Building in Baltimore are struck by an unusual sight as they walk into the lobby. For there on the lobby floor ladies from patriotic, church and veteran societies are putting in the million stitches it takes to sew an authentic reproduction of The Star-Spangled Banner of 1814. The 200-pound, 1,260-square-foot flag is being made to commemorate the 150th anniversary of both the flag and Francis Scott Key's poem that later became our national anthem. It will be hung in the Maryland pavilion at the New York World's Fair, so that all Americans will have a chance to see the largest American flag ever to be flown in battle.

McNamara Can See Only a Hard War

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst WASHINGTON (AP)—Switch the picture around — with the United States in Red China's place—and it isn't hard to understand why Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara just returned from Viet Nam with a gloomy forecast.

He said the war against communism there is going to be "a long, hard war."

Far less easy to understand is why this same McNamara could make other trips to Viet Nam—five in two years — and come back with sunnier statements.

He sounded in the past as if he didn't understand the problem, as if he considered the Vietnamese war just a fight in and for one country instead of being a fight for all Asia, one which may continue for years or a generation.

Look at this picture first:

The Red Chinese by their own words are dedicated to imposing communism everywhere. One of the reasons they gave for their split with Russia is that the Soviets were not aggressive enough in spreading communism.

So it can be assumed they will insist as a minimum upon seeking a totally Communist Asia. If they have not sought to achieve this yet by direct military actions, that is understandable. They're not ready yet.

They are still in the building-up stage, economically, industrially and militarily. They simply do not have the weapons—particularly nuclear ones — to match the West. Given time, they can hope to achieve that.

Meanwhile, they can be expected to use methods short of direct war with the West to communize Asia, even though it takes years, through subversion or aid to Communist guerrillas inside neighboring non-Red countries.

This thinking is not exclusive with the Chinese. After World War II the Russians, who had been attacked by Germany in the world wars, were not content to have their frontiers against non-communist countries.

They reduced their near-neighbors to satellites. This served a double purpose. It spread communism and, in case of a future war with the West, these satellites would be handy partners to blunt the initial attack.

The Red Chinese can be expected to do no less. So, all the major Asian countries—particularly Viet Nam, which borders on China—are logical targets for attack.

The placement of Benton, OMA, president, said the endorsement was not a stand for or against gambling.

It is simply an expression of the belief that the people ought to have a right to vote on the issue. He added that the action was not binding on any separate consideration of a measure in the four counties.

Four Tons of Heavy Humanity

LONDON (AP)—"Four tons of humanity were on top of me," said Frazer Cartwright, 16. "I nearly squashed the life out of me. I thought I was being killed. Never again, thank you."

Students at Wakefield Technical and Art College in Yorkshire decided Thursday night to try to break the world record of 42 students in one bed.

Frazer and four others volunteered to form the bottom layer. Forty-five more climbed on, to make a record 50.

As the last three students scrambled to the top of the writhing mass, Frazer yelled: "Get off! Quick I'm—"

He didn't finish the sentence. Blood gushed from his nose and he fainted.

Other students shouted to those on top to jump. They jumped.

Frazer was unconscious and the other four on the bottom were woozy. Artificial respiration finally brought Frazer around.

for communism through subversion, civil war, or Red Chinese pressure.

If Viet Nam tumbles, the other small nations in southeastern Asia would be persuaded just that much more to line up with China, not with the West. So it is to China's interest to see the Vietnamese war continued, no matter how long it takes, with China's aid and encouragement.

If the United States were in Red China's position, it probably would never cease trying to bring about such a result, as can be seen by reversing the picture and taking Cuba and Mexico as examples.

Communist Cuba, 90 miles off the American shore, is no direct threat to this country, now, although it was for the brief time in which Russian missiles were based there. Perhaps in time something like that will happen again.

It goes without saying this country will never cease trying to rid Cuba of communism, as it is trying for the time being by economic boycott after backing an invasion that failed.

Extend the picture to Mexico, which now has a democratic government. Suppose Russia alone had nuclear weapons and the United States were in China's present position of not having them.

And suppose Communists in Mexico were trying to crush the democratic government of Mexico with the help of Russian men and resources. The United States would not want to risk a nuclear war when it couldn't fight.

But it would never cease trying to encourage and supply the democratic forces fighting the Mexican Communists, no matter how long it took. By this reasoning, fighting in Asia will be a long story.

6.1 Million Broilers Started

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The "Crop Report" Service said Thursday that Arkansas produced 6.1 million broilers last week ended May 10, and put out more than in the week before. All but 542,000 of the placements were hatched in Arkansas.

Two Against Bible Reading Amendment

By JOHN BECKLER

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Protestant spokesman said today the National Council of Churches misrepresented the great majority of its individual members when it opposed a constitutional amendment to permit public school prayers.

Dr. Daniel A. Poling, editor of Christian Herald magazine told the House Judiciary Committee taken by the head of the National Council, Dr. Edwin Tuller.

Tuller testified earlier in the hearings. The committee is studying proposed amendments designed to overturn the Supreme Court's decisions banning required Bible reading and official prayers in the schools.

In his testimony, however, Poling said he supported the court decisions inasmuch as they struck down state laws requiring certain religious practices in the schools.

The Chairman Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., asked whether in its prayer or Bible reading decisions the Supreme Court had declared in favor of exclusion of religion. Poling replied he was concerned about future decisions of the court.

The trend of its decisions, and particularly opinions expressed by individual members of the court, he said, indicate it is moving in the direction of subordinating religion to irreligion.

Celler made a hurried trip home from Geneva, where he had been attending an international convention on immigration, to resume chairmanship of the hearings. In his absence, hearings were conducted by Rep. Michael A. Feighan, D-Ohio, second ranking Democrat, who supports a prayer amendment whereas Celler opposes one.

Feighan had used his temporary authority to bring in extra witnesses supporting his position, including a group of movie stars and Poling.

Poling, who was invited by Feighan only Thursday, was permitted by Celler to testify ahead of two law professors, who appeared in opposition to any amendment.

Prof. Paul A. Freund of Harvard University said there is still too much misunderstanding and emotional unrest to consider making "the first breach in the bulwark of the Bill of Rights."

Prof. Paul G. Kauper of the University of Michigan said it would be "mistaken and unwise" to amend the Constitution in order to overturn the Supreme Court's decisions banning official prayers and required Bible reading in the schools.

Another lawyer, William B. Ball, former professor of con-

Junior College Petition Okayed

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP)—The El Dorado Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors has approved a petition campaign for a proposed community junior college enabling act.

Lee Roy Beasley, chamber president, said the chamber hopes to put the act on the November general election ballot.

If voters approve the proposed act, the legislature could adopt enabling legislation to permit communities or regions to establish junior colleges, he said.

Beasley said El Dorado backers would like to establish such a school here.

Voted With the Majority

WASHINGTON (AP)—Arkansas' senators voted with the majority Thursday when the Senate voted 42-33 to table, and thereby kill, a resolution to broaden the investigation of the Robert G. (Bobby) Baker case. Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., proposed the resolution.

stitutional law at Villanova University and now general counsel to the Pennsylvania Catholic Welfare Committee, told the committee an amendment at this time "is not plainly necessary."

Reds Declare Chinese Line Is Warlike

PARIS (AP)—Mikhail Suslov, the Soviet Union's ideological authority, accused the Chinese Communists today of following a line that can lead to nuclear war.

In a speech to the 17th congress of the French Communist party he called for a showdown on the split with Moscow.

He declared Chinese Communists were stalling for time in an effort to split the parties in various nations.

He said the Soviet Union is determined to press for a meeting of world Communist parties, and the majority "are of the opinion that such a conference is useful and necessary for the international Communist movement."

Appointment Going to Smith

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—W. M. Smith Jr. of Birdeye in Cross County said Thursday that he was aware that his friends were urging Gov. Orval E. Faubus to appoint him to the state Highway Commission.

No one has been selected to replace the late W. J. Denton of Wilson who died last March. Osceola Mayor, Ben Butler and Crittenden County Judge Milton R. Beck are reported under consideration, as well as Smith, to fill the term which expires in January.

Smith said he has not solicited the appointment but would accept it if it were offered to him.

seriously injured women and children.

The delegate, Enrique Camejo Argudin used a conference committee meeting as a platform for assailing the United States.

He claimed that during the raid "a ship approached our coast, destroying by gunfire 70,000 bags of sugar and seriously wounding women and children."

A spokesman for Revolutionary Recovery Movement said its commandos staged a sea attack on the port of Pilon at dawn Wednesday and held it for three hours while they dynamited the sugar mill. The U.S. government has strongly denied playing any part in the raid against Prime Minister Fidel Castro's Cuba.
